

Erin has been a student at Saskatchewan Express for the past ten years and is excited to be joining the faculty this year as an instructor for our Pom classes.

During her time with Saskatchewan Express, Erin trained in Jazz, Ballet, Pointe, Lyrical, Pom, Musical Theatre, Contemporary and Hip Hop. Last year, Erin entered a self-choreographed hip hop solo which did very well at competitions and earned her an award. Outside of Saskatchewan Express, she has participated in several workshops, one being taught by So You Think You Can Dance contestants/winners. For the past two years, Erin has been running hip hop classes through community programs as well as teaching a fitness-based adult hip hop class and a youth hip hop class.

On top of her passion for dance, Erin is very interested in health and fitness. She has done volunteer programs with P.A.A.L, which works to encourage exercise amongst those with intellectual and physical disabilities. She also does Booty Barre (a ballet based workout program) and intends to become a certified instructor this year. Erin is working towards obtaining her degree in Kinesiology at the University of Saskatchewan and hopes to one day become a physical therapist that is still involved in the dance community.
